

Assignment - Week 13 Day 5

Since we had learnt about service workers and the ability to cache them, You can convert any of your previous simple JavaScript applications (Not API apps), to a PWA. It could be any application. Cache the required files, and make sure you have a fallback page as well. As always, feel free to expand the application to also be able to have different versions of caches.

(OPTIONAL: For example, try to tweak your files, and have different cache versions and also delete the old cache using `caches.delete`)
