

1. Write a Python program to check if two given sets have no elements in common.
2. Write a Python program which returns a new set with all items from both sets by removing duplicates.
3. Write a program which uses all of the api's of dictionaries and sets discussed in class.